

Frank Mundus was born in Long Branch, New Jersey in 1925. He started shark fishing in Montauk in 1951. When he first started, he called it "Monster Fishing," his way of attracting customers. In 1964, Mundus brought into Montauk a 4,500 lb. white shark, the largest white to be caught commercially (by harpoon) in this area. The largest great white he caught on rod and reel was in August 1986, weighing 3,427 lbs., with Donnie Braddick as the angler. During his fifty years as a fisherman, he has appeared on David Letterman and Larry King (the TV shows, not the people), and has written the book Fifty Years a Hooker. He is working on a photo story on the capture of the 3,427 lb. great white caught off Montauk. Frank Mundus is one of the last surviving witnesses of the aftermath of the 1951 Pelican disaster, when he and Capt. Carl Forsberg Sr. helped tow the Pelican into Montauk harbor. He is the model for the character Quint in Jaws, although the one in the movie is much better looking.

About Friends of Erin

THE MONTAUK FRIENDS OF ERIN is a civic organization founded in 1962 to run a St. Patrick's Day Parade in Montauk. Over the years it has grown into an organization that focuses its activities on local youth.

These activities include sponsoring three Little League affiliated baseball and softball teams, a youth soccer team, and scholastic scholarships for Montauk Youths.

About Kiwanis

THE EAST HAMPTON KIWANIS CLUB is comprised of members from East Hampton, Springs, Amagansett, Sag Harbor, Montauk and Wainscott. The club has become well recognized in the local community for its involvement in little league and senior league baseball, Toys for Tots, scholarships, senior citizen programs, Meals on Wheels, support for local youth projects, such as the Town RECenter and a myriad of fund raising and support activities. Because of its established reputation for always lending a helping hand, The East Hampton Kiwanis Club is often the first organization on the East End to be contacted when there is a community need. We are proud of our community, and are extremely proud of the support we provide to those who live, work and raise their families here.

All Captains must sign separate “Acceptance of the Rules” form at the Captains' Meeting.

[‡]The winner of the Grand Slam is based on accumulated points. It is not necessary for one boat to catch all four species, but no species can be duplicated (i.e., one boat catches 3 species that have 116 accumulated points; another boat catches all four species, but only accumulates 112 points. The most points—116, if you weren't paying attention—wins).

The individual anglers that win the Grand Slam have their names engraved on the plaque. The plaque is transferred to the new winner each year.

Without these contributors, we could not do what we do... Thank You
